

Operational Risk Manager

Risk

Closing date: 12 March 2019

HSBC Bank Bermuda Limited (HBBM) invites applications for the position of Operational Risk Manager. Reporting to the Head of Operational Risk, the role holder will act as the Second Line of Defense (LOD) and provide independent operational risk oversight, while owning the Operational Risk Management Framework (ORMF). The incumbent will provide holistic operational risk reporting on exposure and appetite to support senior decision making.

Major responsibilities

- Providing advice and guidance on the use of the ORMF to the first LOD leadership and the Risk Stewards
- Coordinating the setting of HBBM's Operational Risk Appetite (ORA) measures following the Group Risk Appetite Framework
- Monitoring use and adoption of the ORMF, reporting non-compliance to Risk Management Meeting
- Partnering with Risk Stewards to oversee consistent and efficient risk management practices, ensuring that management fully considers and effectively manages the risk and control environment
- Providing effective governance, challenge and reporting of key risks and controls
- Providing support to the Head of Operational Risk for any required regulatory reporting, including but not limited to the monthly and Quarterly Regulatory Reporting and Capital Adequacy Risk Profile returns

Minimum qualifications

- Bachelor's Degree in Management Information Systems, Accounting, Finance, or a related field
- 5 years of experience within a similar operational risk environment, preferably within Banking or Financial Services
- Strong problem-solving and analytical abilities
- Superior verbal and written communications skills
- Ability to meet tight deadlines and stay abreast of significant issues in a regularly changing environment
